

Shelf to Bailiff Bridge

Cross the road to an unmade track called Bridle Stile.

Keeping the park on your left and the houses on your right, follow this road as it bears right then left downhill. Continue for about half a mile until you reach a farm at the end called Dean Head.

Here several signs point in different direction.

The one we want is over a step stile on your left. Follow this down towards another stile, where a bridge and steep steps leads you to the other side of the stream.

At the top, go through a gate onto a rough lane. Turn right past a house to where a stile leads you along a path through the top of North Wood. At the end bear left through an opening into a field, where a small climb uphill towards a pylon, to a stile. Turn right and follow the wall side into a grassy lane leading to Middle Ox Heys Farm and the village street at Norwood Green.

Old White Beare

A nice place to stop and rest before carrying on.

Now turn left following the main road to find the War Memorial.

War Memorial.

Go past the swings and Norwood Terrace on your left, Upper Rookes Hall and the Cricket field to your right.

After crossing the railway bridge, turn right into a field. Follow this downhill to where a stile takes you across the very busy A58 main road. On the opposite side, next to Nord Green Nurseries, another stile takes you into more fields. Bearing left, go over the next stile and a small bridge.

Go the ginnel at the far end to follow Victoria Road all the way to then end, where the Punch Bowl Hotel sits at the left hand side of the road.

From here, there are several bus stops, in the local vicinity.

© Copyright by Stuart Leah